

Stoeger Adds Tactical Models to Semi-Auto and Pump-Action Lines

ACCOKEEK, Md. – Stoeger continues to deliver value and performance to shotgun shooters with the addition of tactical configurations based on two of its most popular models, the semi-automatic M3000 and the award-winning P3000 pump.

The new Stoeger M3000 Tactical is built around an ultra-reliable inertia driven action capable of handling light loads as well as heavy buckshot. Chambered for 2 3/4 and 3-inch shells, the 12-gauge semi-auto shotgun features an 18 1/2-inch barrel with a front blade sight and a fixed cylinder choke. The M3000 Tactical features a black finish and is available with either a black synthetic field stock or a black synthetic pistol grip stock. MSRPs for the new Stoeger M3000 Tactical are $599 for the field stock and $649 for the pistol grip stock.

Chambered for 2 3/4 and 3-inch shells, the Stoeger P3000 Tactical sports a proven pump-action design and features a precision-machined, anodized receiver and an easy-to-access cross-bolt safety. Featuring an 18 1/2-inch barrel with a front blade sight and a fixed cylinder choke, the 12-gauge P3000 Tactical offers a black finish and is available with either a black synthetic field stock or a black synthetic pistol grip stock. MSRPs for the new Stoeger P3000 Tactical are $299 for the field stock and $349 for the pistol grip stock.

Both Stoeger Tactical models come with a 5-year warranty.
